

Honda Safety Performance Gets a Lot of Recognition.

Honda has long been a leader in advanced safety performance. And that leadership has been recognized by ratings agencies in their current model-year assessments. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) has granted a 5-Star Overall Vehicle Score¹—the highest safety rating possible—to every current Honda model rated so far.

And after implementing its most stringent testing ever, the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety (IIHS) has bestowed its coveted 2024 awards on several Honda models.

This recognition provides strong reassurance of the quality of Honda safety engineering. So you can drive with confidence in a Honda.
